What is CIPL? The Commonwealth Institute for Parent Leadership (CIPL) is a continuum of engagement and leadership development for families, schools and communities to increase academic success of Kentucky students and progress of Kentucky’s public schools. Powerful partnerships are achieved, when active champions for education honor and recognize the connection between families and schools, as a core strategy for improving student academic achievement. You can find information about CIPL engagement opportunities on our website at https://www.prichardcommittee.org/familyengagement/

What is the CIPL Fellowship? The CIPL Fellowship is designed to offer participants information related to Kentucky’s education system and key topics relevant today to help increase success for all students. Through the completion of webinars, networking opportunities, community leadership and statewide events, CIPL participants earn Fellow status. The Institute provides participants with a unique opportunity to connect with others that share their determination and experience; brainstorm ideas about their local work; share valuable connections and resources; and build strong peer-to-peer relationships that are relied upon for support and ideas.

Who can apply to become a CIPL Fellow? All parents, guardians, mentors and other community members in any Kentucky county who support K-12 public school students and want to expand their capacity as citizen champions for education. A CIPL Fellow is someone who believes public education is critical to the economic and social well-being of Kentucky, is committed to equity and excellence in education from early childhood through postsecondary and is committed to helping their student and their student’s peers excel. If you have a desire to join other Kentucky parents in learning and can commit to approximately 1-2 hours a week to become a leader and advocate, then this Fellowship is for you.

Participants commit to:

MY GOALS FOR PARENT LEADERSHIP ARE (please list three goals):

1.

2.
3.

I BELIEVE THAT PARENT LEADERSHIP IS IMPORTANT BECAUSE:

I COMMIT TO:
• Attending the annual Groundswell Summit and inviting other parents to join me there.
• Participation in required webinars
• Participation in networking conversations and cafes
• Taking what I learn into my community in a way that works best for my community. This could be a dedicated community conversation with a goal of continuing the conversation over time, or designing a unique project.
• A written report that highlights what I’ve learned, how I’ve grown as a parent leader, and what I hope to accomplish in my community as a result. A template will be provided for you

Values and Principles:
• As a parent leader I promote equity for all students within my district and this state. Equity for all means I am in full agreement with the imperative to close achievement gaps and provide the resources and supports for all students to meet and exceed their potential. This means placing special focus on marginalized student groups, including but not limited to students with learning differences, students from low-income homes, English language learners, Black, Hispanic, and refugee students.
• As a parent leader I am responsible for modeling equity as it is defined by Merriam-Webster’s Dictionary: justice according to natural law or right.
• I am willing to attend trainings and other opportunities for development of competency in cultural responsiveness and implicit bias.
